This family appears to have been a part of the great Palatine German emigration to England and America, 1708-1712. The name is spelled in various ways, as most names were in those early days. In the early lists, those of 1712-1716, it is spelled Poos, Bus and Duis. In later years it became changed to Poise, Boyse, Poice, Royce. In the three generations covering the period from 1710 to the beginning of the American Revolution, members of the family were scattered to all parts of New York State.

According to the Parish Register of St. John's Church, Bath, Ontario, Paul Comer and Phebe Luis, both of Ernesttown Township, were married 28 April, 1789. In the list of applications of sons and daughters of Loyalists for land, Phebe is called daughter of John Royce (see paragraph 7 in Comer Family notes).

From this point the trail becomes confused and requires experienced detective review. For instance, there were three John Royces, and two Mary Poices, each woman coming to Canada with families, and each classed as needy refugees from the northern section of New York State (or Province). In order to discover which John was father of Phebe, I shall consider each in turn.

1. John Poice, a tenant of Sir John Johnson at his estate at Johnstown, on the Mohawk river, joined the latter in his escape through the woods to Canada in May, 1776. After nineteen days in the wilderness, Sir John, with about 150 retainers and their families, reached Montreal. On 19 June, 1776, he and his male tenants formed the nucleus of the First King's Royal Regiment of New York, one of the first Loyalist regiments to be formed. John Poice became a soldier in this unit, and later was promoted to Sergeant. His wife, Mary, escaped to Canada with two sons and two daughters in Sept., 1781, at which time she was at Pointe Claire, a suburb of Montreal. This Sergt. John Poice, when on a recruiting trip to New York State, brought back eight men, among whom was his son, Andrew. This Andrew later settled in Ernesttown Township, while his father settled in Matilda Township, about seventy miles nearer Montreal.
2. A second John Royce settled in the Niagara region as a Loyalist, bringing with him a wife and family, apparently from the New York-Pennsylvania border.
3. John Boyce, the father of Phebe, can best be described by noting the Loyalist Claim of his son, Stephen. It reads:

Claim No. 1113 Montreal, Dec. 21, 1783.
Claim of STEPHEN BOICE, late of Henry County.

Claimant says he was at Isle au Roix in the Fall of 1783. Is a native of Mexico--lived at Montown, ALBANY County--joined the British in '80--says he was too young to join before. He lived with his father, and a year after his death he joined the British--served till end of War. Produces his Discharge. Now lives at Cataract.

His father had a house for 60 years of 120 acres. Claimant took possession on his Father's death in 1779. His Father had been in possession 20 years. The rent was 6 York per annum. When Claimant came to Canada, his mother was turned off the Place and came to Canada. She saved the Cattle.

Produces affidavit of John Conklin, taken by W. R. Cranford at Cataract to Claimants being possessed of a farm as above.

John Bois, Witness: Knew the Farm which belonged to Claimant's Father, and which came to him on his father's death--there was a good deal clear. His father had been in possession many years--there was a good house and Barn--he supposes there was 50 or 60 acres clear.

4. This Stephen Bois, or Boice, is referred to in the military papers, as follows:

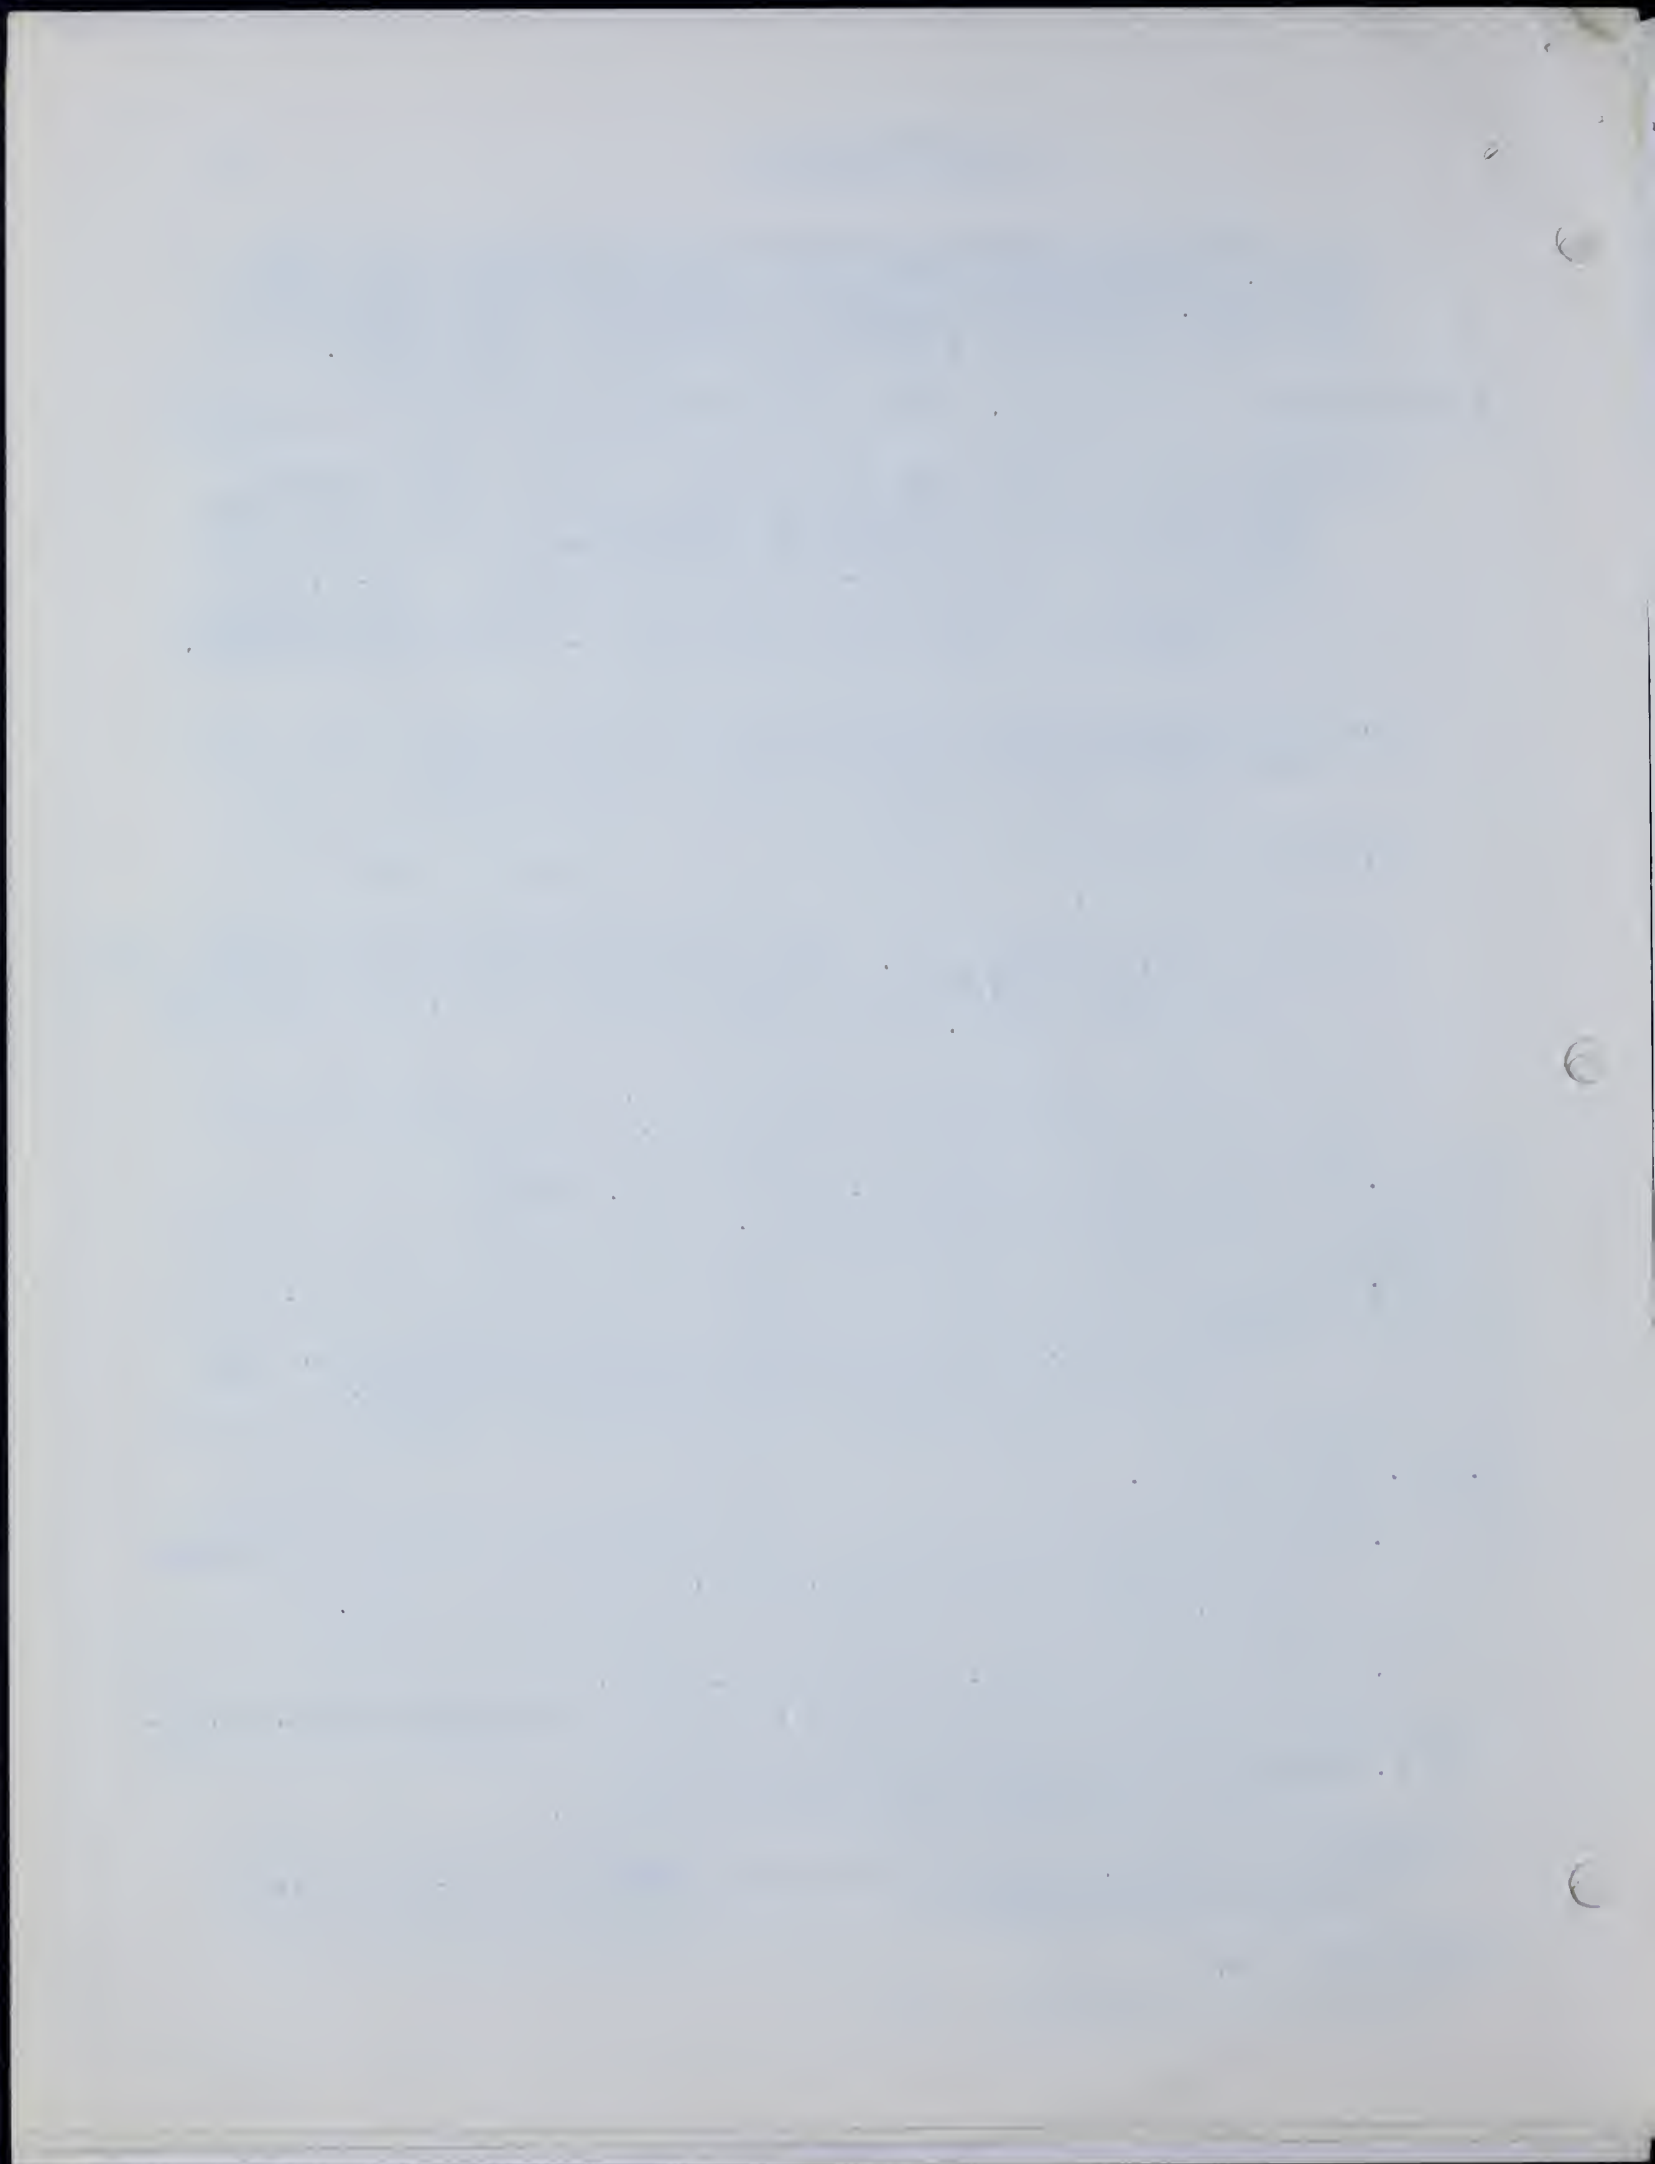

- a. Return of Men Formerly Belonging to Major McAlpine's Corps who have Returned from Imprisonment and have had no Pay or Clothing from for them for the Time Set Down Against Their Names:
Stephen Boyce from 25 Oct., 1777, to 12 May, 1780 23. 6. 0
(If this is the Stephen who made the Loyalist Claim, and who settled in Ernesttown, he was only 14 years of age. This is understandable, as boys were enlisted younger even than this)
- b. Return of All Non-Commissioned Officers and Men of the two Blockhouses on the Yamaska River (Quebec Province), January, 1783.
Stephen Boice, enlisted in May, 1780, before leaving New York.
- c. List of Men brought in for the Service by Lieut. Fraser in May, 1780.

- d. List of Capt. Drummond's Coy., Loyal Rangers, Vercheres (Quebec), 1 Jan., 1782.
Stephen Boyce, born in America, aged 16, 5 feet 8 ins. tall, one year, 2 months service.
- e. A List of the same Company as above on 1 Jan., 1783, shows Stephen as previously listed, but 1 year older.
- f. List of all Loyalists (undated, but about Dec., 1783) Stephen Boice, laborer, unmarried.
- g. List of Disbanded Soldiers and Loyalists settled on Township No. 2 Catherine (Ernesttown) 5 Oct., 1784.

(Note my reference to these two women to follow)

5. Mrs. Mary Boice, No. 1

- a. List of Refugee Loyalists who have been supplied with Provisions at Public Expense from 25 Aug. to 24 Sept., 1781.
Mary, with 2 sons and 1 daughter at Pointe Claire Newcomers.
- b. Similar list for 25 Dec. 1781 to 24 Jan., 1782.
Mary, with same family, at Ste. Genevieve, belonging to 1st R.R.N.Y.
- c. Similar Lists for 24 March and 24 July, 1783.
Mary, same family, same regiment, at LaChapelle.

This Mary, I believe, was wife of Sergt. John Boice, 1st R. R. N. Y., who settled in Matilda Township.

6. Mary Boice, No. 2

- a. List of Refugee Loyalists provisioned at Government Expense, 25 Dec., 1781 to 24 Jan., 1782.

Mary Boice, with one daughter over 6 years, at Montreal. Newcomers.

(Note that this Mary, Newcomer, is listed 4 months after the other Mary, Newcomer. The family is also different, as well as the regiment to which they were attached).

- b. Soldier Lists of 24 March and 24 July, 1782 show this same family, i.e., Mary, with a daughter over six. In both cases she is shown as attached to the Loyal Rangers, the regiment to which Stephen belonged. In both lists Mary was housed at Riviere du Chene.

1 Jan., 1782.

- c. List of Distressed Loyalists to whom Firewood was provided, ~~XXXXXX~~ Mary Boice, an old sickly widow.

- d. List of Loyalists, undated, but believed to be Dec., 1782.
Widow Boice, with one daughter over 12 years of age.

- e. List of 7 Feb., 1784.

Mary Boice, with one daughter over six, at Riviere du Chene.

(This Mary and daughter do not appear again in the lists as such. They are undoubtedly the woman and grown daughter found in the list of 5 Oct., 1784, at Brerestown under Stephen, the same to the returned to the States for their property.)

As you can see, after studying the above resume of the Boices, there is a certain amount of uncertainty. Undoubtedly there were two Mary Boices, distinct and separate, with different families. I have traced the second family to Linnestown and have attempted to tie them in with Stephen, whose father died at Hartown, Albany County in 1779. I have shown that Stephen enlisted in May following. It is also shown that his mother was buried at the same place after emigration, and that she came to Canada in the late fall of 1781. I assume that Phoebe, the wife of Paul Comer was his sister, and that their father was a John Boice because in her claim for land she so-called him.

I have been unable to follow the other Mary further than 14 Feb., 1784, when she and the same four children were at Lockport. Argt. John was in Township No. 5 (Matilda) without family in Sept., 1784. I believe that it can be proved that Mary and young family did not go to Matilda until after Sept., 1784, giving time for her means to prepare a home. Further investigation should be able to clear up that point.

It is also possible that a close study of Church and cemetery records in the neighborhood of Albany, N. Y. will supply further information about the Boice family.

Stephen Boice was only 22 years of age when he came to Linnestown, and certainly not old enough to be the father of a daughter over 12 years of age. He married Elizabeth Conklin before 1782. Their children were:

Mary, baptized here 30 March, 1783

Miss Norah Story,
39 Mark Avenue,
Ottawa 2, Ont.

Dear Miss Story:

This is a reply to your Boyce query, which arrived to-day.

I do not have the answer to connection between Robert Boyce, of Yonge Township, and Benjamin Boyce, except that both were of Yonge Township. Evidently it is true that Benjamin married Mary Brundage as first wife, and later ----I am mixed up!

What I found is the following:

Mary, daughter of John Brundage, of Yonge, a soldier in Delancey's Corps of Refugees, was married to a Mr. Poice before 18 June, 1799, the date on which she drew 200 acres as the daughter of a Loyalist.

Phoebe, daughter of Eleazer Fairchild, of Yonge, Ensign in the King's American Regt., was wife of Robert Poice, of Yonge, prior to 9 July, 1811, the date on which she drew 200 acres of land as daughter of a Loyalist. Phoebe is shown to have married, secondly, Solomon D. Colby, of Bathurst, Woolwich.

I do not have files on this Boyce family, nor on the Fairchilds, since the latter did not come to this portion of Ontario. The same applies to John Boyce, who may have been the father of Robert and/or Benjamin, although neither of them drew lands as his children. Insofar as the Poices, Boyces are concerned, the subsistence lists in the Haldimand papers mention

John Poice, wife Mary, and several children.

Mrs. (Mary?) Boyce, widow, with a child or two.

Andrew )

Stephen ) both young unmarried men who settled in my area. One of them had a son, Benjamin.

I mention these, as it is possible that Robert and/or Benjamin may have belonged to the widow Boyce. However, I cannot find where either applied for land, either as Loyalists or as settlers (prior to 1799).

It is conceivable that the Boyce, who did not have a christian name, who married Mary Brundage prior to 1799, later took a second wife, Phoebe Fairchild. Perhaps his name was Robert Benjamin Boyce, and perhaps he settled in Matilda township before he removed to Yonge. Please also note that I have looked through Leavitt's History of Leeds and Grenville and find no mention of Boyces, Brundages or Fairchilds. The last-named family was prominent in the newly-settled portion of New York north of Albany in colonial days.

I am sorry that I cannot furnish more information, particularly on the sketchy notes with which you supplied me, not that I am complaining.

I am always interested in family notes, but I must not ask you to go to any trouble. If they pay you $1,000.00, send me ten cents.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Dr. Burleigh:

Somebody has sent me a genealogy with which they have had a bit of trouble. Although I know little on this subject I see the possible initial flaw which threw the family off the tracks. This item is one about which you are probably well posted since the Fairchilds are no doubt among the 700 families on whom you have files. May I ask you to clear up this point as I doubt my power to do so. I am being paid for doing what I can so would be glad to pay for the information.

The genealogy I have here is that of the Boyce family. The central interest is to find a connection between Robert Boyce of Yonge Township, and a Benjamin and Mary (Brundage) Boyce on whom they have nothing. The flaw that struck me was that they have given Robert a second wife, prior to 1824, Phoebe Fairchild. She is said to be the daughter of Eleazer Fairchild and to have been born about 1785 in Carrafaxa township, Wellington Co. As the area was Indian land at the time of her birth I think that the whole may be wrong. They think that Phoebe had been married previously to Simon D. Colby.

As this Boyce family is from Leeds and Grenville I will search there. I am going to Toronto at the end of the week. Were I going by car I would stop by to see you but I am using the train. Later on this summer I may get back to Picton and hope to find your museum in full swing.

Yours sincerely

the length is best determined by measurement of the actual window under which the box is to be placed.

The main point is to refrain from making the box too large or deep. When filled with earth, a large box is difficult to lift down for replanting, etc.

Half a dozen drainage holes, about one-half-inch in diameter, are drilled in the bottom of the box and covered with broken pottery before the box is filled with earth.

Nails, and glue fasten the pieces together, and it is then finished to complement the color scheme of the house. Inexpensive angle-iron brackets to hold it in place under the window may be bought at a hardware store.

Odessa Woman Marks Her 90th Birthday Reception

Odessa. — Mrs. D. L. Boyce, who is making her home with her son-in-law, A. W. Macdonald, celebrated her 90th birthday on Thursday, April 30. During the day several members of the family and old friends called to offer congratulations.

1959

In the evening a surprise party was held in her honor when relatives from Belleville, Seeley's Bay, Kingston and the immediate district, were present. Mrs. Boyce had been in good health and spirits until she unfortunately suffered a broken hip in February and is, at present, using a wheel chair. Mr. Boyce passed away in 1947 and since then she has had an apartment in the Macdonald home. In that time, three daughters have also passed away: Mrs. A. W. Macdonald (Tressa); Mrs. Roy Rose (Jennie), and Mrs. R. Snider (Carrie). One son, Clarke, and two daughters, Mrs. Arthur Shane

Spadea's
INTERNATIONAL DESIGNER

(Ethel), and Mrs. Clifford Vrooman (Helen), live in the Odessa district. Mrs. Boyce has 14 great - grandchildren, six of whom were at her party. She was the recipient of lovely flowers and gifts and numerous cards from near and far.

Mrs. Boyce was formerly Emma Jane Morey and was born in North Fredericksburgh and is the only surviving member of her family. There were brothers and two sisters. Half of her married life was spent in the Violet district, where they farmed. Mrs. Boyce was well known in agricultural circles. They moved to this district 40 years ago.

Explorer Group And W.M.S. Held Affiliation

Odessa. — Mrs. John Thompson, chief counsellor of the Explorer Group was in the chair for the affiliation service with the United Church W. M. S., which was held in the Sunday School hall of the church. After the usual opening of the Purpose and the Explorer hymn "This is my Father's World," the call to worship was given by Mrs. Thompson. The Scripture was read by Elaine Etanski. A litany of thanks followed.

Chief Explorer Beverley Thompson was in charge of the affiliation. The treasure chest was presented by De-verde MacDonald to Mrs.

MISS M. Y. WASH

C. S. Froud, principal of the Napanee and District Collegiate Institute, announced recently that Miss Marilyn Yvonne Wash, of Wilton, Grade 13 student, has been awarded a bursary in the amount of $550 to help finance her training at the Kingston General Hospital School of Nursing. The bursary was granted by the Women's Auxiliary of the hospital and will be paid largely as an allowance throughout the three-year course with an initial sum for the purchase of uniforms and books when she enters the hospital this year. Miss Wash attended elementary school in Kingston before going to Sydenham for the first two years of high school. In the three years since she came to N.D.C.I. she has been a popular and industrious student whose interest in sports is reflected in her position as a member of the Girls' Athletic Association this year.

TRINITY W.A.

In spite of the fact that conflicting meetings made it necessary for several of the members to be out of town, 53 ladies attended the regular meeting of Trinity United Church Woman's Association held in the school room on the afternoon of May 4, and heard a thought-provoking address on "Stewardship" given by Mrs. D. S. Wartman, district president of the W. M. S. of the Free Methodist Church. "We are but stewards of our time, our talents and our possessions," she stated. The ladies were not only deeply impressed by her thinking, but were also charmed by the ease with which she spoke, and by her flashes of humor.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. W. H. Duffett, and was thanked by the president, Mrs. W. N. T. Ashton, who was in the chair.

"Humility" was the topic dealt with by Mrs. W. H. Trusecott in the devotional period.

Following the routine business, reports were heard and several matters of importance were dealt with. S. Moore was delegate to Family of Alexander McLaughlin (Laughlin), U. E.

Compiled by Ross Laughlin, M. D.

Hannah, daughter of Alexander Laughlin, U. E., was born Nov. 19, 1790, and baptised Feb., 23, 1791, married, about 1807, Martin Stover, Jr., son of Martin Stover, U. E., who was born Aug. 20, 1785. Martin, Jr., died of disease on Jan. 28, 1814, while still in military service. After his death his children became military pensioners, with his widow as their guardian. Hannah remarried Oct. 13, 1814, Benjamin, son of Andrew Poice, U. E. It is not known if Hannah mothered any children by Benjamin Poice. She died Nov. 25, 1822, aged 32 years.

INTEREST IN

MR. AND MRS. DALY L. BOYCE of Odessa, shown above, are celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary at their home today. Mr. and Mrs. Boyce were married by Rev. J. P. Wilson at the Methodist parsonage in Odessa, Nov. 4, 1886, and they farmed in the district until 1929, when they retired and moved into Odessa. Mr. Boyce was born Oct. 30, 1861, on the third concession of Ernestown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Boyce. Mrs. Boyce was the former Miss Emma Morey, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Morey. They have a family of six: Mrs. Walter Atkinson (Ethel), Mrs. Wyle McDonald (Tressie), both of Odessa; Mrs. Roy Rose (Jennie) of Newburg; Mrs. Rupert Snider (Carrie) of Wilton; Mrs. Clifford Vrooman (Helen); and one son, Clark Boyce. There are nine grandchildren, Nathella, Gerald, Vernon, Clayton and Donald Rose; Amy, Elinor and Dale Boyce, and Fred Vrooman. There are also two great-grandchildren, Shirley and Wayne Rose. ## Tiny Influenza Virus Proves Rugged Type

By Thomas R. Henry

Science Editor, North American Newspaper Alliance

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 — The influenza virus, an almost infinitesimally minute living particle, is nevertheless, a "rugged individualist."

It not only exists in several forms, but these forms are quite individualistic as if they were different species of animals, according to investigations of Dr. Jonas E. Salk of the University of Michigan, with the aid of the commission on influenza of the U.S. Army surgeon general's office.

Determination of hereditary differences between these strains is essential for preparation of more effective vaccines.

Fundy Lobsters Now in Pacific

SINCE VIRUS PARTICLES are too small to be seen, differences can be found only in their behavior in certain physiological and chemical tests. It has been recognized for some time that there are two major types, Influenza A and Influenza B. The maladies caused by these are in-

Dear Herb:

Many thanks for sending along the 2 copies of "Forgotten Leaves". I read it with a great deal of interest, and it recalled to mind many things about which I did not know or had forgotten.

In case Beulah could not give you a run-down on my early life, I shall pass along a few items.

First, I knew the Boyce boys who lived on a farm about one concession <sup>or miles</sup> west of Hartington, where the old road used to make a right turn to Verona - Carl bought a farm near Yarker and was married to Edna McMahon (She came from near Picadilly). Harold became a doctor and practiced in Deseronto.
Russell went farming near Hagersville and died some years ago. I knew him better than the others. Silas

over

farmed also, <sup>2</sup> but died quite a few years ago.

Our family lived in Harrowsmith in the 1st house on the left side after you crossed the T & P, & B. Q. R. tracks. This street or road leads to the Cemetery <sup>and</sup> on to Colebrook and Garter. Dad was B. of Ouinte road foreman. There were eight in ~~the~~ <sup>our</sup> family so there was no money for education beyond public school. After Mother had died and Dad remarried, and I had earned enough money, I started D.H.S. four years later than I should have.

Beulah was a member of this class. Grandfather Boyce was born about 1830 - I think in the Wellington area in Prince Edward County. He evidently worked for the Katibara lumber Co of Deseronto who had the timber rights on the Happoness River. I think he must have taken a job in the area of Petworth and there met Grandmother Boyce (we Anna Bradford). This little plot of 16 acres is on the east side of the Wapancee X<sup>3</sup>. One concession north of Pitcairnt. Here Dad; Uncle Jim and Jack; and Aunt Kate were born.

Mother's family's name was Smith.
Her Dad was the first blacksmith in that area... Evidently this side of USA, the family came to Canada from the USA.
I shall quote a small bit of a diary.
"I, Darius Champion Smith, was born at Pittstown, State of N. York, on the 9th day of Sept. in the year of our Lord 1794 and resided at that place until I was five years of age. My parents moved to a place called Warren, stayed there a year and from thence moved to the German State two miles above the Little Falls on the Mohawk River.
I lived in that place one year and six months and from thence started for Canada in a small Schenectady boat up the Mohawk River." The diary goes on for some length but Grandfather Mr. Smith was a descendant. I think there were many more, as birth control was unheard of at that time.

Ira Smith married twice - sisters by the name of Hartmann - He could do more than shoe horses for there were 4 children from the first marriage 12 from the second. I think about 12 became adults. He and his wives are buried at Moscoe.

My parents and Grandparents are buried at Harrowsmith - also one sister Nell (the their eldest <sup>our</sup> daughter) Copp.
She was married to C. A. Copp, still living in Harwood). He was for many years the C. P. R. agent at Harrowsmith.

Nell that is part of the family history.
Perhaps enough to confuse or enlighten you a bit.

If we ever get around to taking a few days away and come near Bath, I think I shall pay you a short visit. He had a cottage for 28 years on the Baker farm just west of Kingston. Of course the Nylons people helped to end that but it was a very satisfactory arrangement; good swimming - fair fishing

when the Lake was not too rough, hardly for attendance at Queen's Summer School, and we could see Mrs Boyce's parents who lived at 231 Alfred St. She was the elder of two girls: Lillian and Christine Diack.

Dr. Boyce who was superintendent of Kingston General was distantly related to us.
How distant I am not certain. There are numerous Boyces in Prince Edward County, and in the area of north. There seems to be quite a few in Eastern Ontario. If we have a common origin is within the range of probability; but no one had the time, energy or perhaps desire to keep the family in touch. Remember Boyce's Drug Store?
I have given away the two copies of "Forgotten Leaves" and would like one for my own library. I shall enclose a cheque to cover cost and postage.

I was surprised to know that Prof.
Dupuis had lived so close to Harrowsmith.
As a small boy, I recall that about 1903
(when there were only a few cars in the area) he was in Harrowsmith one Sunday with a auto and it was driven with a propeller at the rear. They were having some trouble. I can imagine the least They created on those limestone roads.

I must stop before you are bored. If you do a little research <sup>re: the Boyce family</sup> I would certainly appreciate hearing from you.

Please convey my good wishes to Brenda when you see her. Tell her that I saw Elsa Craig from Verona a few weeks ago. The last time was in March 1916. We have both become senior citizens. To you my thanks and good wishes for time and energy to pursue your hobbies.

Sincerely yours,

Myron B. Mills of Napanee Is Dead

Had Been Ill Six Months—Was Very Well Known in District 1932

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Napanee, Oct. 22— Following an illness which extended over six months, the death occurred this morning of Myron B. Mills, aged 72 years, who had been engaged in business in this town practically all his life. For many years he carried on a business in carriage trimming, but latterly had been engaged in the poultry and hatching business. He was one of Napanee and district's best known citizens.

Mr. Mills was born at Bath, being a son of George Mills and Maria Boyce. He was a prominent member of Trinity United Church and an official of the board of that church for many years.

Deceased was also a very prominent yachtsman. He was the owner of the yacht Dolphin, and took part in many races in Kingston and on the Bay of Quinte. In politics he was a strong Conservative. He is survived by his wife and four children, George of Cleveland; Frank of Napanee, associated in the business with his father; Mrs. (Dr.) H. W. Smith, of Napanee and Mrs. (Rev.) W. H. Truscott, of Lansdowne. The funeral will take place at 2.30 o'clock on Monday afternoon. Interment will be made in the Napanee cemetery.

of parenthood. They treat their children like animals, let them fend for themselves, live under appalling conditions, and so lay the foundation for development of a hardened criminal character."

WEATHER

TORONTO, Oct. 22—Pressure continued low over the Gulf of St. Lawrence and low areas are centred over Alberta and Colorado with high pressure in Northwestern Ontario and over the Southeast States. Light to moderate showers have occurred in Quebec and the Maritimes while elsewhere the weather has been for the most part fair with slightly above normal temperature in the West.
